This is one of a series of reports presenting the findings of the 1935 Census of Business. The statistics were compiled by the Bureau of the Census from information collected in 1936 in a field canvass of hotels in every State, city, and county, in the United States. Funds for the Census were provided by the Works Progress Administration.

Hotel reports are prepared under the supervision of Ralph C. Janoschka, Chief of the Hotel Division, by Harper E. Carraine.

GENERAL EXPLANATIONS

AREA AND PERIOD COVERED.---This report presents the findings of the canvass of hotels conducted in the first eight months of 1936. In the canvass, which covered the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia, reports were secured for the activities of hotels for the calender year 1935. Seasonal establishments and new enterprises reported for that part of the year during which they were in active operation. Some seasonal hotels operating during the winter season reported their activities for the 1934-35 season rather than for the calender year 1935.

COMPLETENESS OF COVERAGE.---The canvass was made by enumerators who visited each place of business for the purpose of securing a report. Reports for the individual units of chain organizations were secured either from the units themselves or from their respective chain headquarters. It is believed, however, that the coverage of hotels, particularly those which are normally operated for only a part of the year, was somewhat incomplete. Many seasonal hotels were not operating at the time the field canvass was made, and for this reason enumerators were, in some instances, unable to secure reports. Absence of legislation, which during regular Census years makes reporting mandatory, is another reason for incompleteness in coverage of both year-round and seasonal hotels in certain localities. A check of the Census data with current hotel directories and other sources cannot be entirely conclusive because of local differences in the meaning of the designation "hotel". Such a check suggests, nevertheless, that the business represented by hotels from which no reports were obtained, constitutes only a very small proportion of the total amount of hotel business for the country as a whole.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT.---The tables contained in this report present a complete summary of the data furnished by hotels which reported to the Census. It will be found, however, that some items on which information was requested (see schedule Form 41 appended to volume), such as operating expenses, the separation of employees into full-time and part-time, and the members of proprietors' families working regularly in the business, were omitted from the tabulations. The irregularity in the reporting of these items was so great as to impair the significance of such totals as might have been obtained. Even for some of the items for which results are shown, such as number of employees and pay roll by occupational classes, and the percentage of occupancy, it was necessary to restrict tabulations to those reports for the larger hotels in which information furnished on these items was not obviously erroneous.

BASIC DATA.---Tables 1, 2, 3, and 4 present basic data for hotels, separately for States, counties, and selected cities of 10,000 or more inhabitants. The basic data include number of hotels, total number of guest rooms, amount of receipts, number of active proprietors and firm members, average number of employees, and total pay roll for the year. In the tables for States, these data are shown separately for year-round and seasonal hotels.

Table 3 presents statistics for a substantial number of the counties within each State. Data for each county not shown separately are either combined with data for an adjacent county or are included under "Remainder of State". Counties not shown separately have been combined either to prevent disclosure of the operations of individual hotels or single chain organizations; or, occasionally, to obviate the understatement of the hotel facilities and hotel business in individual counties in which some incompleteness in coverage is definitely known to exist.

Similarly, data are presented separately in Table 4 for cities of 10,000 or more inhabitants which justify separate presentation from the standpoint of the amount of hotel business represented, which can be shown individually without disclosing the operations of individual hotels or single chain organizations, and which are believed to be free from serious incompleteness in coverage.

ANALYSIS OF RECEIPTS BY SOURCE.---An analysis of hotel receipts by source is given in Tables 6 and 7, which present figures for year-round and seasonal hotels combined, and for year-round hotels separately, for each State and city of 500,000 or more inhabitants. Data are presented in Table 6 for all but 851, or 2.9%, of the total number of hotels reporting, these 851 establishments having failed to furnish any breakdown of total receipts. Table 7, however, is limited to those hotels reporting separately both receipts from rooms and receipts from the sale of meals, and, consequently, does not include many American plan hotels and some European plan hotels which did not make this further segregation.

EMPLOYMENT AND PAY ROLL.---Detailed data on employment and compensation of employees are presented in Tables 5, 10, and 11. Figures on the number of employees by months, for States and cities of 500,000 or more inhabitants, are shown in Table 5. For States, these figures are also given separately for year-round and for seasonal hotels.

Tables 10 and 11 summarize the information on employees by sex, on employees and pay roll by occupational classes, and on the number of employees receiving gratis meals and/or quarters for the week ending October 26, 1935 or for a more representative pay period. The data are shown only for year-round hotels of 25 or more guest rooms, for States and cities of 500,000 or more inhabitants. A considerable number of hotels meeting these minimum requirements failed to furnish the weekly employment and pay roll information requested. Moreover, a small number of reports, were eliminated from the weekly employment and pay roll tabulations because the figures given were obviously erroneous. It is believed, nevertheless, that the results presented in Tables 10 and 11 are fairly representative of all year-round hotels having 25 or more guest rooms.

SIZE GROUPS.---Tables 8 and 9 present a study of the basic data on receipts, personnel, and pay roll for hotels arranged by size groups based on total number of guest rooms. In these tables information is shown separately for States and cities of 500,000 or more inhabitants.

TRANSIENT AND RESIDENTIAL GUEST ROOMS.---Size groups identical with those in Tables 8 and 9 are used in Table 12 for the presentation of information on the number of guest rooms, separately for transient guests and for residential guests, in year-round hotels of 25 or more guest rooms (see "Rooms for transient and permanent guests" under Explanation of Terms, Page vi). This table is shown for States and cities of 500,000 or more inhabitants.

PERCENTAGE OF OCCUPANCY.---A distribution of year-round hotels of 25 or more guest rooms by percentage of occupancy is shown for States and cities of 500,000 or more inhabitants in Table 13. Because of the complex nature of the inquiry, and the failure of a number of hotels to calculate the percentage in conformity with the instructions given, each figure reported under Inquiry 9 (see Schedule Form) was submitted to a careful scrutiny. For this reason, Table 13 summarizes only those reports for year-round hotels with 25 or more guest rooms in which the information furnished was not obviously inaccurate.

COMPARATIVE TABLES.---Comparison of the basic data for year-round hotels of 25 or more guest rooms for 1929, 1933, and 1935 is presented in Table 14 for States and cities of 250,000 or more inhabitants. However no data for 1933 and 1929 are presented for the State of California and its three cities of 250,000 population, because of lack of comparability with the figures for 1935. This incomparability is due to the inclusion in the 1935 tabulations of a large number of apartment hotels in California which, because of less specific information on type of occupancy, could not be distinguished from apartment houses in 1933 and 1929. No comparative data are presented for seasonal hotels because of differences in coverage arising from the difficulties encountered in connection with each of the three Censuses in canvassing this type of establishment (see "Completeness of Coverage", Page i).

APPENDIX TABLES.---In order to complete the presentation of data for hotels, it was thought advisable to append to this volume tables by area and type of establishment for places of business such as rooming houses, year-round boarding houses, seasonal boarding houses, resorts, transient dormitories, residential hotels, and apartment houses. The information shown in these tables is not a complete summary for places of business which might properly be designated as rooming houses, apartment houses, resorts, etc. The tables merely summarize the data submitted to the Census on the report form for hotels which, upon careful consideration, were eliminated from the hotel tabulations because the establishments could not be regarded as hotels for Census purposes.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

HOTELS.---The Census includes, principally, establishments designating themselves as hotels and providing hotel accommodations as their major business activity. Establishments reporting a total of less than six guest rooms, or receipts from room rentals amounting to less than $500 for a full year's operation, are excluded from the present Census. Apartment hotels were canvassed and classified as hotels, provided a substantial portion of their receipts was derived from the accommodation of transient guests. Apartment houses, residential hotels catering exclusively to permanent guests, boarding houses, lodging houses, tourist homes or camps, resorts, Y.M.C.A.'s, Y.W.C.A.'s, dude ranches, club dormitories, and other similar establishments furnishing lodging and/or meals to guests are not considered hotels for Census purposes.

In a number of borderline cases, the proprietor's or management's own designation was requested by mail and used as a basis for omitting or including in the hotel tabulations each of the reports in question. Except for a few localities having no hotel licensing laws, information as to the nature of the license under which the place was operated was also requested, and was considered in determining whether or not a particular establishment was actually conducting a hotel business. Hotels having six or more guest rooms, but failing to report separately the amount of income from room rentals, were not omitted unless total receipts amounted to less than $500.

The activities of restaurants and other eating and drinking places operated on the hotel premises by the hotel are included in the hotel reports. On the other hand, similar activities operated as concessions are excluded except for concession rentals, which form a part of the hotel receipts.

YEAR-ROUND HOTELS.---All hotels which are normally in operation at least nine months of the year are considered year-round hotels.

SEASONAL HOTELS.---Hotels which normally operate less than nine months of the year are considered seasonal hotels.

RECEIPTS.---Receipts represent total revenue of the establishment. In addition to receipts from room rentals, the revenue of hotels may include receipts from the sale of meals, receipts from the sale of beverages, receipts from the sale of merchandise (such as gasoline and oil, cigarettes, cigars, etc.), and receipts from other sources - including those for laundering, storage, repairs, rentals for concessions, rental from the lease of space not generally used by hotel guests, etc.

PROPRIETORS.---Only those individual owners and members of partnerships devoting the major portion of their time to the operation of their respective hotels are included. There are, of course, no proprietors in the accurate sense of the term in incorporated businesses. Similarly, no proprietorship information is included for approximately six hundred estates, trusteeships, and receiverships. Members of a proprietor's family are not included as proprietors unless, in addition to devoting the major portion of their time to the operation of the hotel in question, they actually own an interest therein. Those family members (other than proprietors) receiving a stated wage for their hotel services are considered employees.

EMPLOYEES.---Only employees receiving cash wages are covered in the tabulations. Hotel employees include the following: salaried officers of corporations; other executives; office and clerical employees; waiters and waitresses; other dining room, lunch room, bar, and kitchen employees; housekeeping employees; and "all other" employees. The classification, housekeeping employees, for purposes of this report, refers to all persons engaged in the care of rooms and halls, such as chambermaids, housemen, etc. Employees catering to the individual needs of guests, such as doormen, bell boys, and valets, are included under "all other" employees.

AVERAGE NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES.---The total number of paid employees (full-time and part-time combined) working during the pay period ending nearest the fifteenth of the month was reported for each of the twelve months of 1935. The average number of employees for the year, both for year-round and seasonal hotels, represents the sum of the reported employment for each of the months divided by twelve. The average number of employees shown in tables presenting comparisons with 1933 and 1929 differs somewhat in method of computation from the method just explained. In these tables, averages comparable with those presented in the hotel report for 1929 were secured by dividing by four the sum of the number of employees reported for pay periods ending nearest the fifteenth day of April, July, October, and December.

PAY ROLL.---Includes salaries, wages, bonuses, and commissions, paid full-time and part-time employees (including executives and salaried corporation officers) during the year. Hotels were requested to report the pay roll figure prior to any deductions for meals, quarters, uniforms, etc. On the other hand, the pay roll figure is limited to cash compensation only; it does not include the cash value of meals, quarters, uniforms, or other facilities furnished employees free of charge as part of their compensation. The pay roll figure does not include compensation of proprietors or firm members, nor does it take into account amounts received by hotel employees in the form of tips.

EMPLOYEES RECEIVING GRATIS MEALS AND QUARTERS.---Information pertaining to number of employees receiving meals and/or quarters in addition to cash wages was requested for the week ending October 26, 1935 or other more representative pay period. The count of employees receiving one meal daily includes those employees receiving a single meal only, and does not include those employees receiving two or three meals daily. Similarly, the number of employees reported as receiving two meals daily is exclusive of the number receiving a total of three meals per day. The count of employees receiving quarters is independent of the count of employees receiving meals; that is, some of the employees receiving quarters may also receive meals.

ROOMS FOR TRANSIENT AND PERMANENT GUESTS.---Classification of guest rooms according to type of occupancy (Table 12) is based primarily on the decision of each hotel as to the total number of its guest rooms usually available for transient guests and the number usually occupied by or available for residential guests (see Appendix, Form 41, Inquiry 8). Where definition of the terms "transient" and "permanent" was requested, enumerators were instructed to define as permanent guests only those persons seeking lodging for a period of time usually more than a month and receiving as a rule reductions from the full daily or weekly rates.

PERCENTAGE OF OCCUPANCY.---All field enumerators were given the following formula for use in computing the percentage of occupancy:

$$\text{Percentage of Occupancy} = \frac{\text{Total number of occupied room-days for 1935 multiplied by 100}}{\text{Total number of guest rooms multiplied by 365}}$$

To compute number of occupied room-days for 1935, take total number of rooms occupied each day (or part of day) in the year and add these 365 totals. This addition will give the number of occupied room-days for the year.

There is reason to believe that, in many instances, especially in the case of the smaller hotels, the figure supplied represents an estimated percentage rather than a percentage calculated in accordance with the above formula.

GENERAL ANALYSIS

The 28,822 hotels which made returns show an average of $504 total receipts for each of the 1,428,646 guest rooms reported. Restricted, however, to the 3,370 hotels operating less than nine months of the year, total receipts per guest room average only $300, as compared with a corresponding average of $528 for all year-round hotels. An average of one employee for every $2,473 total receipts is obtained by dividing the $720,145,000 total income for all hotels by the 291,165 hotel employees. Adding to the total number of employees the 24,573 active hotel proprietors, this average receipt figure becomes $2,281 for each person (except members of proprietors' families) actively engaged in the hotel business. All employees combined received an average compensation for the year amounting to $659. The average annual cash earnings of seasonal hotel employees ($583) are only slightly less than those of year-round hotel employees ($663), and the total personnel requirements of the two types of hotel appear to be virtually the same, although proprietors constitute a relatively more important group in the case of seasonal hotels.

GEOGRAPHIC DISTRIBUTION.---The distribution of the hotel business by States and geographic divisions is shown in the map immediately preceding Table 1. Three States, New York, Illinois, and California, as indicated in this map, reported $266,283,000, or 37%, of the total amount of hotel business. It is interesting to note in this connection that these same three States represented approximately 21% of the total population of the country as estimated for July, 1936. The three Middle Atlantic States, together accounting for 59% more receipts than any other single geographic division, represent 30% of the entire amount of hotel business; New York alone, with 2,207 hotels, reporting $146,261,000, or 20%, of the total amount of hotel receipts, and 188,303, or 13%, of the total number of guest rooms. Seasonal hotels (see definition, Page iv) are concentrated in Florida, New York, New Jersey, Maine, and California, these five States together accounting for 67% of the total receipts, and for 63% of the total number of guest rooms, reported by this type of establishment.

EMPLOYMENT.---The total number of employees in hotels in 1935 ranged from a minimum of 279,159 in January to a maximum of 320,045, in August. For year-round hotels, January was the month of minimum employment and October the maximum; and, for seasonal hotels, November was the minimum and August was the maximum. The considerable amount of variation from month to month remaining in the table for year-round hotels is due largely to the influence of varying employment in hotels which, while actually in operation more than nine months of the year - and therefore classifiable as year-round hotels for purposes of this report - nevertheless have definite peak seasons.

HOTELS CLASSIFIED BY SIZE.---The pronounced concentration of the hotel business in the larger hotels of 300 or more guest rooms is indicated in Table 8. Hotels of this size although representing only 1.8% of the total number of hotels, reported 39.7% of all hotel receipts. Hotels of from 50 to 299 guest rooms representing 23.8% of the total number of hotels account for 43% of the total business for the year; while hotels of from 6 to 49 guest rooms, comprising 74.4% of the total number, account for only 17.3% of all receipts. It is interesting to note that hotels in this last size group account for 20,653, or 84% of the total number of active hotel proprietors as well as for 18.2% of the total number of paid employees.

HOTELS IN MAJOR CITIES, CLASSIFIED BY SIZE.---8.9% of the total number of hotels, 71.5% of the total amount of hotel business, and 69.6% of all hotel employment, in cities of 500,000 or more inhabitants, is accounted for by hotels reporting a total of 300 or more guest rooms. Hotels of from 50 to 299 guest rooms in cities of this size represent 47.5% of the total number, and 25.6% of the total amount of receipts; while hotels having less than 50 guest rooms, in contrast to the situation for the country as a whole, comprise only 43.6% of the total number of hotels, 2.9% of the total income, and 2.8% of the total amount of hotel employment, within these thirteen principal cities.

ANALYSIS OF RECEIPTS BY SOURCE.---The 27,971 hotels reporting a breakdown of total operating receipts indicate that 81.1% of their $695,210,000 total receipts during 1935 was derived from the two principal sources of hotel income - receipts from room rentals and receipts from the sale of meals. The remaining 18.9% represents receipts from the sale of beverages (10.4%), receipts from the sale of merchandise (1.7%), and receipts from other sources (6.8%). Only 9,029 of the 28,822 hotels reported separately both receipts from room rentals and receipts from the sale of meals. In the case of these 9,029 establishments, receipts from room rentals and receipts from the sale of meals account for 58.8% and 41.2%, respectively, of the $393,890,000 income from rooms and meals combined, this combined figure in turn accounting for 77.9% of receipts from all sources.

EMPLOYMENT AND PAY ROLL FOR A SPECIFIC WEEK.---The week ending October 26, 1935 was suggested for reporting employment and pay roll information for a specific week, and was used by most of the 9,140 hotels furnishing this type of information. In a few individual instances, however, data in answer to the specific week inquiry were reported as of another more representative week. 106,521, or 57%, of the 186,756 employees classified according to character of work performed are men, while 80,235, or 43%, are women. Average cash earnings of employees in each of the various occupational classes, for this same specific week, are presented below. It must be borne in mind that these average earnings are for full-time and part-time employees combined, and that they do not take into account either earnings in the form of tips (waiters and waitresses, housekeeping employees, etc.) or earnings in the form of annual, quarterly, or monthly bonus payments (executives, etc.). Also, of course, it should be remembered that such cash earnings do not reflect compensation in the form of gratis meals and/or quarters (see Table 11).

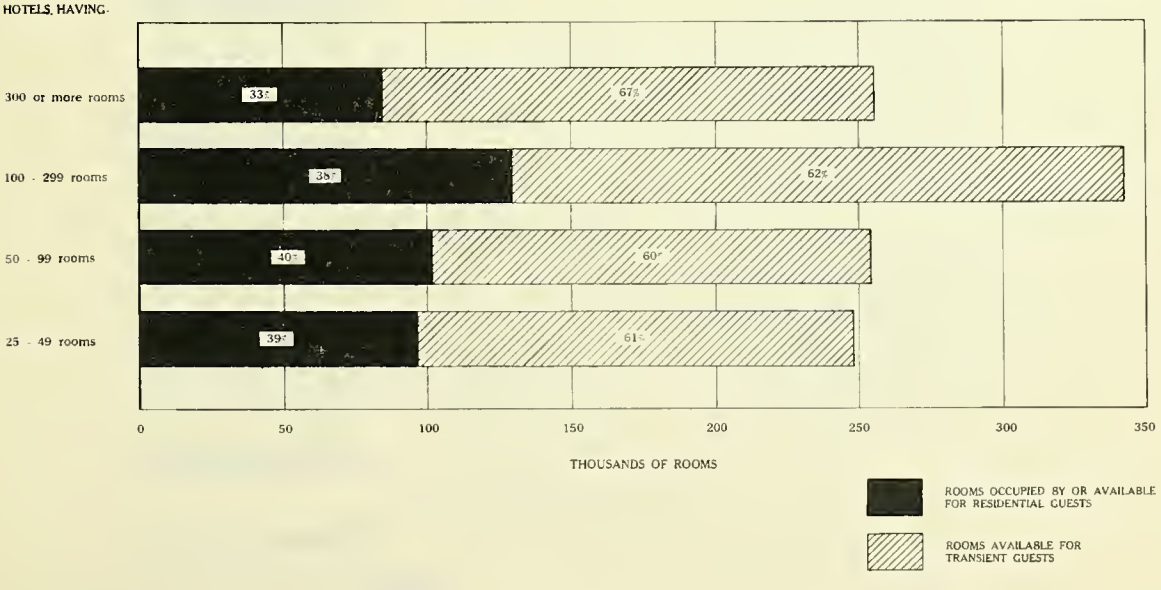
TYPE OF OCCUPANCY.---Year-round hotels having 25 or more guest rooms reported 687,042, or 62%, of their total number of guest rooms as usually occupied by or available for transient guests (see Explanation of Terms, Page vi). The inclusion in hotel tabulations of reports for apartment hotels catering principally to residential guests, but deriving a substantial portion of their income from the accommodation of transients, is largely responsible for the seemingly high percentage of hotel rooms (38%) shown as usually occupied by or available for permanent guests. The following chart is constructed from the type of occupancy statistics for the United States presented in Table 11.

TOTAL NUMBER OF GUEST ROOMS AND TYPE OF OCCUPANCY: 1935

ALL YEAR ROUND HOTELS OF 25 OR MORE GUEST ROOMS



PERCENTAGE OF OCCUPANCY.---As indicated in the following chart, 18.6% of all hotels reporting percentage of occupancy information were between 71 and 80% occupied during 1935. These same hotels represent 19.5% of the guest rooms accounted for by the 12,238 hotels for which percentage of occupancy data are presented. 95,889, or 49.5%, of the total number of guest rooms reported by hotels from 71 to 80% occupied were designated as usually occupied by or available for permanent guests.

GRATIS MEALS AND QUARTERS.---Of the 13,639 year-round hotels of 25 or more guest rooms, 10,055, or 73.7%, furnished meals and/or quarters in addition to cash wages to one or more of their employees. 40,506, or 15.9%, of the total number of employees in year-round hotels of this size received quarters, and 115,126, or 45%, received at least one meal daily. 29,018 more employees received three meals daily than received two meals; and, similarly, 15,802 more employees received two meals daily than received one meal per day (see Table 11).

COMPARISONS WITH 1933 AND 1929.---The amount of year-round hotel business for 1935 reported by hotels having 25 or more guest rooms (the minimum guest room requirement for the 1929 Census) shows a substantial gain over 1933 but is considerably less than the amount of business reported for 1929. The following table summarizes for the United States, with the exception of the State of California (see Comparative Tables, Page iii) number of year-round hotels, total number of guest rooms, receipts, average number of employees (based on number of employees for the specific months of April, July, October, and December), and total pay roll, for each of the three hotel Censuses.

APPENDIX

CONFIDENTIAL GOVERNMENT REPORT

Section 8 of the Act creating the Department of Commerce and Labor, approved February 14, 1903, provides that: "The Secretary of Commerce shall from time to time make such special investigations and reports * * * which he himself may deem necessary and urgent." Acting upon this authority, I have authorized and instructed the Director of the Census to take a Census of Business covering the calendar year 1935. We ask for the cooperation and assistance of the business men of the United States in this undertaking and assure them that their individual reports will be held absolutely confidential. Only sworn employees of the Bureau of the Census will be permitted to examine your report, and no information will be given to any person, whether in Government service or private life, which would disclose, exactly or approximately, any of the facts or figures in your report. The information will be used for statistical purposes only.

DANIEL C. ROPER, Secretary of Commerce.
